Profile A :

You are the kind of person who likes musicals such as Grease etc., and that's why your favorite actor is John Travolta. You also like Steven Spielberg, the director of Jurassic Park, because in his films, there is a lot of blood and you like it ! You don't go to the cinema because you prefer watching films at home with your family. You are not very good at war movies and you don't like them, you think they are too boring whereas you are fond of animated films like Charlie and the Chocolate Factory and you have seen this film more than twice ! You are not very interested in the couples in Los Angeles and in the USA in general !

You are very serious and you don't spend hours on your computer and your cellphone ! You do your homework everyday and you are very sensible.

Profile B :

You like movies about action and you know every detail about action movies but you don't know anything about drama.

Moreover, you don't really like musicals. You often go to the cinema, about two or three times a month and you like that !!

Finally, you are not very good at English because you don't know the English title of Alice aux Pays des Merveilles.

Profile C :

You are crazy about drama films, such as Titanic or 127 hours. You go to the cinema every week. You are eager to watch any movie recently released.

Your idol is Leonardo DiCaprio. You have seen all his movies !

Your favorite director is James Cameron, because he made Titanic and Avatar. You don't mind watching musicals. You aren't familiar with the name of actors, so sometimes you are wrong, but you have seen Star Wars and you remember some names. However, you know a lot about Titanic, Avatar or any of James Cameron's movies.

Obviously, you gave the right answer to the last question which is about Titanic.
