Profile A :

You always go to the cinema but you only see horror movies. You like going to the cinema with your friends. You are crazy about beautiful and wealthy actors like George Clooney.

Your favourite film is Sexy Dance 3 because you envoy dancing. You are cultured enough to know the director of Arthur and the Minimoys. You haven't seen the movie Avatar but you would like to see it. You are not interested in the movie Pulp Fiction because you think that's absolutely ridiculous and moreover you gave a wrong answer.

You confuse Arnold Schwarzenegger with Sylvester Stallone because they look alike but you know the movie Rambo. You have seen the movie Titanic and you think that it is moving. You know who made it : James Cameron, of course!

Profile B :

You often go to the cinema, and the last film you have seen is quite recent. You enjoy going to the cinema as well as watching DVDs at home. Your favorite actor is admired by everyone, and he is known to be a good actor.

You like 3D movies and new technologies. Your knowledge of cinema is quite impressive and for example you know who the film director of Arthur and the Minimoys was, who the director of Avatar was, who had the first role in Rambo and who made Titanic. Congratulations !

Profile C :

You know nothing about cinema; you go there only in order to see very bad movies. You prefer watching DVDs whereas cinema is better. You try to learn things about actors, but it is useless because you are not interested in cinema.

The best film you have ever seen is Bienvenue chez les Ch'tis. You think it was Alfred Hitchcock who made the film Avatar and Tina Turner who acted in Pulp Fiction !!! You must make an effort! By the way, it is not Celine Dion who acted in Titanic !
